Introduction:

Huaqiao University, Xiamen University and Ohio University are pleased to host the Sixth International Conference of Institutes & Libraries for Overseas Chinese Studies. The purpose of this conference is not only to provide a platform for scholars to interact and exchange ideas with librarians/archivists and collectors, but also to provide an opportunity for examining issues in collection development and resource sharing. Therefore, we welcome proposals from scholars, librarians, archivists, collectors, graduate students and undergraduate students. In the past, the Ohio University Libraries has successfully organized and co-organized five WCILCOS conferences: Athens (OH) USA (2000), Hong Kong (2003), Singapore (2005), Guangzhou, China (2009), and Vancouver, Canada (2012). The 6th conference will take place in Xiamen, where both Huaqiao University and Xiamen University are located. Xiamen is a beautiful coastal city in southeast China, and is also the hometown of a large population of overseas Chinese who currently reside in Southeast Asia. Huaqiao University and Xiamen University both have a long tradition of research and collection-building on Chinese Overseas Studies and both also hold strong programs on Overseas Chinese studies.
